Presentation by Dr Damian Murchan

Assistant Professor, School of Education, Trinity College Dublin;
Director of Teaching and Learning (Postgraduate), Trinity College
Dublin.

Dr Damian Murchan will present on assessment within Junior Cert reform, specifically the role of the teacher within the assessment process, clearly outlining the various interpretations of assessment experienced within the classroom. Concerns such as the conflict of the objectivity of the class teacher who has responsibility for students at the Junior Cert grade will be discussed. This presentation will provide an opportunity for Subject Associations to discuss the scope of the teacher's role in assessment and to clearly identify within their subject how this is achieved, and in turn, to continue this discussion with their members.
